COURSE CONTENT:

Human trafficking exists in the United States and can be considered Modern Day Slavery. Worldwide, it is a $150 billion criminal industry and it is found in every state of the United States. As many as 300,000 children in the US are at risk for sexual exploitation on a yearly basis.

Law Enforcement Officers may encounter a human trafficking operation during the course of their duties: during a traffic stop, during a police raid or even through a walk-in complaint. These situations often lead to the rescue of a human trafficking victim.

Upon Completion:

Participants will be able to:

- Basic education of how to identify Human Trafficking
- Characteristics of victims and perpetrators
- Mechanism of operations, and assessments of trends
- Case studies
- Investigative techniques and trends
- Insight into undercover Human Trafficking/Vice operations
- How these type of investigations crossover with internet crimes against children and traveler cases
- Obstacles law enforcement officials must overcome
- Substantial legal, cultural, and organizational barriers while investigating and prosecuting trafficking cases

Partial funding provided by Illinois Law Enforcement Training and Standards Board and MTU#1's request for certification of this course has been approved by the Illinois Law Enforcement Training and Standards Board
